One week from next Tuesday comes the opening day of the Lamoille County Fair, and as the time draws ful exhibition. The farmers seem to be taking a great interest in the success of the several departments with which they are connected, and entries of stock and produce will be more extensive this year than ever before.

Floral Hall will receive the attention of the ladies as usual, and the attractiveness of this part of the Fair will be greatly added to by the exhibits of the children, for which a liberal sum has been set apart. This is a new feature, which, if the success it deserves is realized, will be permanent. The exhibits from outside the county will be numerous.

Elmer Smalley is to run the board-ing house on the Fair ground, and will move over the Saturday before the Fair. He has had several years' experience and will give good satis-

The liberal purses will bring out a large number of the best horses in Vermont and the trotting and pacing events will be honest and upright in every respect. The classes are as Entries close Sept. 14, at 10 p. m., to be made to A. A. Niles, Secretary. Money to be divided as usual. The novice bicycle race, open only to county riders, will be an interesting event. The prizes to be given to the winners in this race are now on exhibition at Lang & Campbell's. The Waterville Band, a first-class organization of eighteen pieces, will discourse music. Come to the old reliable Lamoille County Fair on Sept. 18, 19 and 20, and enjoy three days of pleasure. Any information desired will be furnished by the Secretary, A. A. Niles. Hou. A. B. Smith has charge of the ground privileges.

Hon. A. B. Smith will be on the Fair grounds Saturday p. m. the 15th, to rent and assign privileges; also Mr. Niles to take entries of stock and articles for exhibition and premiums. Entries can be made or privileges rented before that time if parties desire. Make your entries early.

Postal Statistics.

The anniversary of the establishment of the money order system in the United States, thirty years ago, takes place on November 1. At the beginning of the first year the total number of money order offices in the whole country was 419, and their transactions amounted collectively to only $2,000. At the present time the number of money order offices is 17,957, and the total number of such orders issued in a year amounts to 13,000,000. The amount of money transferred amounts to $130,000,000 a year, and in addition to this sum $26,000,000 more changes hands Lineagh foreign money orders.

Eighteen manon dollars a year is sent out of the United States in the form of money orders to other countries, and $7,000,000 a year comes into the United States through remittances from foreign countries. The net loss of the United States from this source is $11,000,000 a year. The remittances to and recoints from Canada about offset each other-$1,500,000 each way.

France and Germany send back himst one-third of what they receive; so do Switzerland and Austria. Ausrevalia and the islands of the Pacific and more especially Hawaii, remit more money to the United States in money orders than they take out of it, but the great discrepancies are to be found in Ireland, Italy and Scandinavia. The remittances to Ireland are six times as much as the receipts from that country. To Sweden and Norway is sent in a year $2,000,000; from them comes $200,000. To Italy is sent $1,500,000; from Italy comes $70,000. The transactions of the money order department, which are an important feature of the postoffice business of the country, show a profit-each year. About $1,000,000 is received in fees, and the whole expenses amount to about $500,000 a CHAMBER SUITS, EASY CHAIRS, year.

It is a peculiarity of the finances of the post-office that as the business increases in volume, the profits of operation advance in even greater ratio, and but for the existence of a SASH, DOORS, BLINDS & GLASS. wast number of petty and unproductive postoffices, scattered throughout the south and far west, the business of the department, instead of entailing a small loss, would yield a very considerable profit. The Republican national convention of 1888, in Chicago, declared for one-cent postage.

Mrs. Amelia Bloomer, after whom the "bloomer costume" was named, still lives, at the age of 76, with her husband in Council Bluffs, Iowa. It was in 1851 that she began to wear the trousers. She was then living at Seneca Falls, N. Y., where she published a temperance and woman's suffrage paper called the Lily. A Mrs. Miller, who in 1851 paid a visit to Seneca Falls, appeared in the bifurcated dress, and Mrs. Bloomer published a description of it. She and Elizabeth Cady Stanton adopted its style and advocated its general use. Mrs. Bloomer wore the costume on several lecture trips. She has lived to see, probably with some chagrin, the bicycling craze accomplish what the hygienic ideas of herself and her co-laborers failed to bring about .-Paterson Press.

ANTI-OLEO.

GEN, GROUT'S BILL IN THE INTERESTS OF THE DAIRYMEN OF THE COUNTRY.

Congressman Grout's pet measure just now is his oleomargarine bill. His heart still beats true to his plan for elective postmasters, but for the moment that plan is side-tracked in favor of his oleo scheme.

Gen. Grout's oleomargarine bill was duly and favorably reported to the House at the recent session by the committee on agriculture to which it had been referred, and will come up for action at the December session of Congress. "The object of this bill," said Gen. Grout, 'is not in any way to supercede the present law as some think, but to supplement it by giving effect to the laws concerning oleo in several States into which it may be taken for sale. In other words, to exempt it from the operation of the original package decision in which it was held by the supreme court that an article of merchandise in the original package when shipped from one State into another, is not subject to the laws of the State into which it is shipped.

"This decision," continued Gen. Grout, "related to intoxicating liquors, but applies to every kind of merchandise, and it has been equally helpful to the oleomargarine trade. The great increase in the output of bogus butter is the direct result of setting aside the State laws which in a great measure prevented the counterfeit article from being sold as butter, and all the bill proposes is to let the laws of each State have control over the sale of all imitation dairy products brought within it, and the same as before the original package decision. Congress promptly followed that decision with a law giving the States in which intoxicating liquors was shipped, control over it. pending bill is substantially in the language of that law and gives over in the same way the false butter business to the police power of the States. Not only dairymen, but butter dealers and all butter-eaters must be interested in the passage of this bill. -St. Johnsbury Republican.

THE SLAVE'S STORY.

It is About a Rebellion that Ended in Flat Fallure. That wise old slave, Æsop, tells how the inst wise old slave. A sop, tells how the jaws and the arms refused to supply and to grind food for the stomach, which, they said, was a lazy thing living on its neighbors. Of course the rebellious members suffered and grew weak. As what we call science did not exist in Æsop's day, it isn't likely that even he understood the full force of this fable.

We understand to day the supreme importance of treating the stomach well, for the ance of treating the stomach well, for the consequences of indigestion extend from the brain to the toes. Because of bad digestion there are so many skinty, pale, bloodless men and women in the world. Nothing will fatten and strengthen them unless they can find a food that will pass from the stomach into the blood without digestion. Paskola is such a pre-digested lood. "It gives me great pleasure," says Dr. W. Babcock, of Chelsea, Mass., "to speak in the highest terms of your delightful preparation, Paskola. I have lately prescribed it for one of my patients, and I am greatly surprised at its wonderful power as a flesh producer. The young lady has been out of health and losing flesh. She began taking Paskola as directed. Her weight was 103 pounds. She has taken four bottles and now weighs 109 pounds, and is looking much improved. She has taken four bottles and now weighs 109 pounds, and is looking much improved. She says she feels like a new creature. This change has been brought about by Paskola."

Another physician's testimony:

Oswroo, N. Y. May 21, 1894.

Gentlemen:—The bottle of Paskola received a week ago to-day and I immediately commenced the use of it, in connection with Poland water. I am feeling very much better and have increased 1% pounds. During the eight days' use of Paskola, no erructations of gas, in fact, seeming perfect digestion. If gas, in fact, seeming perfect digestion. It this condition continues, I shall be a devoted of Paskola and will prescribe it when indiated to my patients

Sincerely yours. E. MANWAREN, M. D. Paskola may be obtained of a y reputable retail druggist and a pamphlet fully descriptive will be mailed upon application to The Pre-Digested Food Co., 30 Reade St. New York.
